SPEECH FAVORING ALLIES AROUSES ITALIAN STORM

ROME, June 20.—"Remain faithful to our duties toward the allies," was a passage in the address of Premier Orlando yesterday which turned the tide against the premier and resulted in the adverse vote which had its sequel in the resignation of the Orlando cabinet. The premier's words aroused the anger and hostility of the deputies, several shouting across the chamber at the government bench from which the premier was speaking. There was a great turnuit and cries of "the ailes have never been faithful to them".

Signor Orlando's fateful utterance so stirred the deputies that the remainder of his speech received but little atten-

The government resigned last evening following the adverse vote in the chamber of deputies. Premier Orlando in announcing his resignation and that of the cabinet, said King Victor Emmanuel had reserved decision as to acceptance.

U. S. AND COLOMBIA

Senate Committee About to Report Treaty Giving Latin-American Nation $25,-000,000 for Canal Rights.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
The News Scimitar's Special Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Sixteen years have elapsed since the people of Panuma, by a sudden revolutionary movement, separated themselves from Colombia, set up a republican form of government and 72 hours afterward were recognized by the government of the United States.

By that action the building of the Panuma canal was made immediately possible because the negotiations for purchase had been carried on without seeming prospect of success.

But, while the canal was built and was opened to the world, the prestige of the United States throughout Latin-America suffered a decline. Repeatedly Colombia asked for payment of damages, but again and again was turned down by the senate of the United States.

Today all is changed. The United down by the senate of the United States.

Today all is changed. The United States and Colombia have just reached an agreement whereby the difficulties and strained relations between the two countries will be removed. And the senate foreign relations committee is about to report favorably a new treaty giving Colombia $25,000,000 for her rights in the canal zone.

TOMATOES MOVING,

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., June 20. (Spl.)—The tomato movement by which Panama was born. He vigorously denied all such insinuations in a special message to congress in 1904, though afterward he did say in a public address: "I took Panama and talked about it afterward."

This has since been regarded as an admission of seizure, though his friends have justified that course on the ground that Colombia was blocking a great enterprise by holding up the United States for a bigger price.

Department Statement.

Department Statement.

Department Statement.

The department of state, in July, 1914, met this argument with a statement which said in part: "If it is contended that the price offered by the United States prior to Panama's separation was a reasonable one, and that Colombia ought to have accepted it, that valuation cannot be reduced merely because Colombia was not willing to accept the offer. The price then offered was approximately $17,500,800. But when this price was offered, it was understood that Colombia would retain the state of Panama and have the advantage to be derived from proximity to the canal. What justice or fairness can there be in the proposition that Colombia, having refused to accept a fair price, is not entitled to any damages at all? The payment of the $25,000,000 is only a reasonable compensation for damages actually suffered, damages attail? The payment of the $25,000,000 is only a reasonable compensation for damages actually suffered, damages actually suffered, damages actually suffered damages actually suffered the action of Colombia in 1992."

That has really remained the status of the case since 1914. Occasionally an effort has been made since then to press the treaty through the American senate, but unsuccessfully. Senator Lodge, intimate friend of Col. Roosevelt, would not permit the treaty to be ratified, as he could command more than one-third of the membership of the senate, even though his party was in the minority.

Now, Lodge, as chairman of the for-eign relations committee has than one-third of the membership of the senate, even though his party was in the minority.

Now, Lodge, as chairman of the foreign relations committee, has outlined the amendments which would be acceptable to him, and one of them was an elimination of the apology clause.

Acting Secretary of State Polk and Senators Lodge and Knox have been in frequent conference, and the position of the senate was made clear to the Colombian government, which now has accepted all the amendments, eliminations and changes proposed.

So the treaty is in such form that Senator Lodge feels he can champlon its ratification on the floor of the senate. He will be assisted, too, by Senator Knox, who, as secretary of State, saw the merit of Colombia's claims, Indeed, Dubois, the American minister to Colombia under Secretary Knox's administration of the department of state, estimated Colombia's reversionary rights at about $47,000,000.

Columbia Satisfied.

Columbia Satisfied.

Colombia would have lived it better if the treaty had contained an expression of regret, but is satisfied because two administrations, Republican as well as Democratic, actually signed such a document and submitted it to the American senate. So far as Colombia is concerned, she considers this action, on the part of the executive branch of our government as sufficient expression of the desire of the United States government as well as an overwhelming body of American citizens.

The payment of the $25,000,000 is in itself compensation which Colombia will consider arises from the treatment she received in 1903. No one will be able to prevent Colombia from constraining the $25,000,000 or any other sum of money as confirming her views.

But throughout Latin-America the impertance of a settlement of the Celombian controversy can not be exaggerated. Latin-Americans have usually pointed to the Panama episode as a proof of so-called American hypocrisy in professing to be the champion of weak nations and then taking advantage of them.

The repeal of the toils provision in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain was an instance, however, of ungrudging generoesity in the interpretation of a moot point in a treaty, and Senators Lodge and Root supported that action vehementy.

Today it falls to Senator Lodge, of Masseachusetts, again to take a step which corrects a wrong impression throughout Central and South America. It means that next door to the Panama canal the United States will not have a potential foe, but a friend, and that commercial relations between Colombia and ourselves which have been impeded for 16 years will now be assisted and stimulated.

The $25,000,000 is to be expended for public works in Colombia, and long ago it was announced that contracts for materials and work were to be given to firms in the United States. It may have taken 16 years to right a wrong, but the United States by ratifying the new treaty will have done so, nevertheless, and the record of this country will have been duly corrected.
